Just as we humans differ in form, emotional content, consciousness, and spiritual outlook, so it is with all creation. At each level, life displays its unique adaptation to the pressures and demands put on it at that point in its search for perfection. This is true even for those we think of as spiritual beings. There is a tendency to see such beings as having attained perfection. The truth is....they too are on a journey towards a destiny we cannot imagine.

The Four Holy Creatures, their attributes, meanings, powers, and destiny are closely entwined with our own, at least on this planet. They are the symbolic forms of the very "stuff" of which we are made on the physical level and as they rise to the astral they take us with them, which is why they are depicted as winged. On the mental level they inspire and illuminate our thoughts, and at the spiritual level they become the Guardians of the hidden knowledge of Daath.

The trouble is that as occult symbols have become more widely known they also tend to lose their mystique and begin to lose the energies they once had, at least on the surface. Beneath the "glamour", the age-old truth still waits and bides its time.

Each one of us holds those fourfold energies within and often have one element more prominent and more energetic than the other three. By raising the others so all are at (roughly) the same level, we can create a balanced and harmonious vibration or, to be more precise, a Chord of Harmony that can join with others of the same kind to a real part in the Eternal Symphony that began in the Time Before Time.

In this workshop we will explore the power, energy, and strength of the Holy Four within us and use them to work more efficiently on all levels. Universal Energy (Magic) comes in many forms and changes, often drastically with each new Age. You and I who were born at the beginning of an Age are the Carriers, the Teachers, the Instigators of that change. This means WE have to change and adapt in ourselves before we can act as Magical Midwives for those who will carry the ancient Light of the Mysteries into The Age of Aquarius. This Hand-over of responsibility has not changed since Atlantis sank beneath the waves. Without such willing helpers the Light would not have survived. Carry yourselves with pride no matter how little you can do, it will be enough.
